Dear Maynard,

In our brief conversation several weeks ago I meant to ask you how you were coming along with the geese? There seems to be some chance that I may be able to do something with them on TV. I should know better in about a week. Had I not been preoccupied with the other book, I might have known by now.

If you have any questions, if you'll note them, when I can I'll answer them.

Saw your dad earlier this week. He seemed okay. I thought his shoulder might be giving him a little less trouble from the way he carried himself.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
